Nevada Resort PAC Announces State Assembly Endorsements

LAS VEGAS – The Nevada Resort PAC has released endorsements for State Assembly races in the 2022 General Election. These 13 candidates, representing both Democrats and Republicans, understand the value of the gaming and resort industry and recognize the immense economic contributions Nevada’s leading industry brings to the state.

Nevada Assembly candidates endorsed include:

- Speaker Pro Tempore Steve Yeager, District 9
- Assistant Majority Floor Leader Daniele Monroe-Moreno, District 1
- Assistant Majority Whip Sandra Jauregui, District 41
- Assistant Minority Whip – South Gregory T. Hafen, II, District 36
- Assemblywoman Heidi Kasama, District 2
- Assemblywoman Rochelle T. Nguyen, District 10
- Assemblyman Howard Watts, District 15
- Assemblywoman Melissa Hardy, District 22
- Max E. Carter II, District 12
- Erica Mosca, District 14
- Angie Taylor, District 27
- Bert K. Gurr, District 33
- Shea Backus, District 37

“The Nevada Resort PAC is pleased to announce its first round of endorsements after a very thorough process,” said Virginia Valentine, president of the Nevada Resort Association. “These candidates share our priorities and a common-sense approach to ensuring Nevada’s economy, largest industries, small businesses and working families have every opportunity to succeed and thrive in an environment that welcomes economic investment and growth.”

The PAC continues to interview candidates and plans to make additional endorsements in the coming weeks.

The Nevada Resort PAC was launched in January with more than $2.3 million in initial funding. The Nevada Resort PAC is dedicated to recruiting, evaluating, endorsing and electing business-minded state legislative candidates.
